Tell Jesus

"John calling unto him two of his disciples, sent them to Jesus."
Luke 7 v 19

He was in perplexity about certain matters. There were some things that were worrying him, that he could not make out himself, and he sent to Christ to ask Him about them. That is just what every one of us should do when there arise perplexities of any kind in our lives or affairs—we should carry them straight to Jesus. Even the children have their disappointments and trials. They have discouragements. Now they ought not to worry about these matters. Of course, they cannot always understand them; how could they expect to understand everything in such a vast world as this? But is it not a great thing to know that Jesus understands it all? He knows what He is doing.

So the true way for us is just to do what John did—tell Jesus whenever anything appears to go wrong, or when anything happens we cannot understand. That is the rule Paul gives for keeping clear of anxiety, "Be careful [or anxious] for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God." Then he promises that if we only do this we shall never have worry— "The peace of God shall keep your hearts and minds."

The meaning of all this is, that we should never carry a worry of any kind even for a moment, but whenever any matter begins to perplex us we should go instantly and tell Jesus all about it, and leave it in His hands, that He may manage it for us.

This leaving it is the hardest. We can easily take it to Him, but we are so apt to pick it up again and carry it back with us, and keep it, just as if we had not taken it to Him. We should learn to tell Jesus of our perplexities and sorrows, and then commit all to Him without further anxiety. This is faith, and is the way to find peace.

Text for the Week:

“Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me. Cast me not away from Your presence; and take not your Holy Spirit from me.”

Psalms 51 v 10

Forget it and Move on

Philippians 3 vv 13-14

We all have a ‘past’. It is filled with hurts others have done to us, mistakes that got us into trouble, and things we are so ashamed of we would not dare talk openly about them. What to do? There are only two things you can do with your past: focus on it, or forget it and move on. If you need forgiveness, ask God for it, receive it by faith, learn from your mistakes, and try to do better next time. Paul wrote: ‘One thing I do [it is my one aspiration]: forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on towards the goal to win the [supreme and heavenly] prize to which God in Christ Jesus is calling us upward’ (vv 13-14 AMPC). Note the words ‘my one aspiration’. Before Paul met Christ, he routinely imprisoned and executed Christians and shut down churches. And what is more, he got paid for it! Maybe that will make you feel a little better about your past. Now, however, Paul had only one aspiration: ‘straining forward to what lies ahead’. When you fail by sinning, you compound your failure by obsessing over it and wallowing in guilt. Why? Because God has provided forgiveness for you! So whether you sinned twenty years or twenty minutes ago, there’s nothing you can do about it except to ask God for forgiveness, receive it, put it behind you, and move on. You must let go of yesterday’s mistakes in order to grasp today’s blessings. When you learn to do that, you will enjoy life the way God intended.
